BRYAN FLOUR MILL IS UNDER WAY

Work Begun on Building That is to House Bryan's New Industry.

The Eagle is peculiarly happy to announce to the people of Bryan that the biggest and best of the New Year gifts coming to the old town, is a flour mill. It is no joke, it is a reality, and work has already begun.

H. T. Lawler and sons, Jordan T. Lawler and H. T. Lawler Jr., are the builders and proprietors, and the people of Bryan have come to know that when they set their hands to a task it is going through.

When seen by The Eagle editor this morning, Jordan T. Lawler said: "Yes, the flour mill is a certainty and you may say to the people of Bryan that work is now under way on the foundations of the building that is to house the plant."

The mill will be located along the Houston & Texas Central tracks just south of the power plant, and the building will be three stories, of heavy mill construction on a solid concrete foundation. The machinery will be the latest make known and the initial installation will have a capacity of seventy-five barrels a day. It will be so constructed, however, that other units of the same size may be added as needed until the capacity reaches 225 barrels daily output. The building will also contain storage room for 25,000 bushels of wheat.

J. T. Lawler is directing the building of the mill and is having it done with day labor. He says he will be ready for operation within ninety days.

This new enterprise is a great thing for Bryan. It will put in circulation a large sum of money for material and labor, and after its completion will furnish employment for a number of people. It will help to swell the Saturday night payroll and add to the building up of the city. All honor to the Lawlers.

VOTE ON SUFFRAGE ON JANUARY 12

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Jan. 2.—The House leaders have definitely agreed on January 12 as the date for the vote on the woman suffrage constitutional amendment resolution.

INSTALLING NEW MACHINERY.

We are now installing our new shirt machinery and will be equipped to give you as good work as can be had in the South. If bundles are left with us by 8 a. m. we can give them back to you the same day when requested to do so. Our prices are right, our service of the best, and we urge upon all the importance of supporting a home institution so as to maintain an up-to-date laundry in this town. We have gone to considerable expense in installing the latest machinery and preparing to give you the best in the laundry line, and trust you will appreciate it sufficiently to give us your work. Our employees make their money here and spend it here, helping that much toward a greater Bryan, and by patronizing home institutions we each contribute to the rebuilding of our little city. Thanking you for past favors and wishing for each and everyone of you a happy and prosperous New Year, we are,

A NOTE OF THANKS.

The following note from Miss Katie Daffan, superintendent of the Texas Confederate Woman's Home, is self-explanatory:

"My Dear Mrs. Tallafiero—Again the old ladies of the Confederate Home are indebted to you for a boxful of useful and beautiful gifts, which kind thoughtfulness has filled their dear old hearts with deep and abiding appreciation.

"Please remember me to your splendid chapter and tell them that I appreciate their practical interpretation of our love for the Confederacy. To do work of this kind for the wives and widows of soldiers is to honor the cause and fulfill the objects of our organization. With love,
"KATIE DAFFAN."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The truth gives pride many a jolt.

Where there's a will there's a chance for a lawsuit.

Trouble never dodges up an alley when it meets a man who is looking for it.

Some men consider themselves lucky because they owe more than they can pay.

Closing our own eyes to our own faults is a poor way to achieve a great reputation.

It takes a lot of cheek to kiss some girls, but most of them are willing to supply the cheek.

THE WEATHER

Forecast Till 7 P. M. Sunday.
Unsettled tonight and Sunday, with rain; warmer tonight.

Following are the officers elected by the Knights of Pythias' Lodge at their last meeting for the ensuing term: H. L. Locke, chancellor commander; J. W. Payne, vice chancellor; J. M. Hare, prelate; M. E. Wallace, master of work; Joe B. Reed, master of finance; J. M. Hare, master of exchequer; Ed S. Martin, master at arms; A. S. Ware, keeper of records and seals; Frank McGee, inner guard; Julius Christian, outer guard.

A. & M.'S NEW RIFLES.

One Thousand of the Latest Model Have Been Received.

Cadets at the A. & M. College will use the same model rifles in drilling as are used by the United States regulars. A shipment of 1,000 of the 1903 model rifle and 15,000 rounds of ammunition arrived at the college today. These guns will be used by the cadets instead of the 1898 model, which has been used for the past few years.

The issuance of the new guns will increase the efficiency and rating of the corps. Military inspectors have given A. & M. rank as one of the five distinguished military colleges of the Nation, but have commented on the use of the old model gun. The new guns are shorter, lighter and have many improvements over the old model. The guns will be issued when the cadets return to college Monday.

TAX COLLECTIONS COMPARED.

Following is a comparison of the city taxes collected during the month of December, 1914, with the collections during the corresponding month of 1913, according to figures furnished The Eagle by City Secretary Crenshaw:

Taxes collected during December, 1913, $3,143.15.

Poll taxes, $33.

Taxes collected during December, 1914, $3,444.33.

Poll taxes, $17.

This comparison shows an increase of $301.18 for December, 1914, over December, 1913, and a decrease of $16 in the poll tax collections.

This is a good showing for the office on account of the present financial stringency, and speaks well for the taxpayers of Bryan.
